Pola Negri In New Film Here For Two Days

'Good and Naughty' To Be Shown at Torrance Theatre

Pola Negri plays her first outright screen comedy role in "Good and Naughty," which comes to the Torrance Theatre Thursday and Friday. The picture is a rollicking comedy of love errors very skillfully treated by Malcolm St. Clair, the director. It was adapted from Avery Hopwood's stage farce, "Naughty Cinderella."

Tom Moore plays opposite Miss Negri in her latest Paramount feature, and a superb humorous characterization is given by Ford Sterling.

Portraying for the screen an eruption of Mount La Pelée on the French West Indian island of Martinique, which destroyed the city of St. Pierre and wiped out 28,000 lives, is the huge undertaking which was accomplished during the filming of "Volcano." William K. Howard's new dramatic production for Paramount, which comes to the Torrance Theatre Saturday. Plans for the project had to be made with extreme care in order to safeguard the lives of Bebe Daniels, Ricardo Cortez, Wallace Beery, and the others who were compelled to appear in scenes with these settings crashing down on them. It is a tribute to all concerned that not one injury was recorded.

Frank Lloyd, who produced the well remembered "Sea Hawk," has just completed a new production for First National which promises to surpass in interest his previous achievement.

This is "The Wise Guy," with James Kirkwood in the title role. The picture is booked to be shown at the Torrance Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Others featured in the cast of "The Wise Guy" are Betty Compton, Mary Astor, Mary Carr, George F. Marion, and George Cooper. It was especially written for the screen by Jules Furthman.

Many noted players are seen in the cast of "My Old Dutch," which Lawrence Trimble directed at Universal City, with May McAvoy, Pat O'Malley, Cullen Landis and Jean Hersholt in the principal roles, and which comes to the Torrance Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Edgar Kennedy, noted director and delineator of "heavy" roles, plays the villain of the new story. Others are Agnes Steele, Frank Crane, Rolfe Sedan, Violet Kane, Donald Keyes, Zanna Zamoria, and little Sheila O'Malley, daughter of the leading man, three years of age and as accomplished before the camera as her famous father.

Eastern Stars Observe Fifth Birthday Here

Beautiful Appointments Feature Dinner at Masonic Temple Thursday

Orange-shaded lights cast a soft glow over the beautifully decorated banquet hall at Masonic Temple last Thursday evening, when Torrance Chapter No. 350, O. E. S., celebrated its fifth anniversary with a chicken dinner.

A color scheme of lavender, orange and purple was carried out in detail. Orange butterflies with lavender and purple wings floated lightly from the stables with centerpieces of the tables were tall bouquets of orange, purple and lavender flowers were connected by streamers of like-colored ribbons. The favors were made of lavender and purple, with handles of lavender and purple. Members of the committee who served the dinner were: Mrs. J. H. Stanger, and Mrs. Charles Mueller.

Two candidates received the initiatory degree at the meeting of the chapter which followed the dinner.

There were no lengthy speeches. Worthy Matron Fess gave a short history of the Torrance chapter from the time it was organized in the hall at Lomita with a few members to the present, when the membership numbers 163.

Mrs. Fess thanked the committee who planned and served the dinner and who were responsible for the really beautiful decorations. Members of the committee were Mrs. A. H. Bartlett, Mrs. J. O. Moore, A. H. Bartlett, Mrs. J. O. Moore, Mrs. W. E. Stanger, and Mrs. Charles Mueller.

Two candidates received the initiatory degree at the meeting of the chapter which followed the dinner.

Mischa Elman at Hollywood Bowl Monday, Aug. 23

The musical surprise of the season comes in the announcement that Mischa Elman, world-famous violinist, and the complete Hollywood Bowl orchestra, under the direction of Alfred Hertz, will present an elaborate program of music in Hollywood Bowl Monday evening, Aug. 23, for the benefit of the Philharmonic orchestra relief fund.

Everywhere Elman has played he has won friends by his pleasing personality and the famed "Elman tone," which has a fullness of volume and a richness of quality that makes it unique. He will play Tchaikovsky's concerto and a group of favorite solo numbers. The Hollywood Bowl orchestra of 100 pieces, under the direction of Alfred Hertz, beloved orchestra leader, who is the guest conductor for the final two weeks of the regular symphony concert season in the Bowl, will give a gala program.

The concert is an extra event. The regular Bowl season tickets will not be good. General admissions are from 75 cents to $3. Reserved box seats available at special prices.

The purpose of the concert is to raise funds to assist sick and disabled members of the orchestra personnel.

The Hertz-Elman combination is sure to draw a capacity audience.

Rooney Family Heads Orpheum Bill Next Week

Famous Group Heads Another Attractive Menu of Vaudeville

Litling tunes, lavish settings, and the flashing heels of the Rooneys augmented by a bevy of beautiful girls in "Rooneyisms of 1926-7" will be the headline attraction at the Orpheum opening Sunday, Aug. 22. The nimble Pat Rooney III, Marion Bent and Pat Rooney III, have assembled a lavish offering for his tour of the Orpheum, and the large cast of stellar lights appearing in the production include Nita Townsend and Billy Bold, Muriel Stryker, Anita Nieto, Mildred Burns, and the Van Joyce sisters. Pat's production this year has particular significance because it marks the twenty-first year of married life and stage partnership of himself and Marion Bent and it also heralds the debut of Pat III, representing the third generation of Rooneys, to Orpheum audiences.

Nick Lucas, "The Crooning Troubadour" will remain for another week, with the same crooning voice and melodious guitar but with an entire new repertoire of songs. Other outstanding features will be Herbert Faye, assisted by Bert Morrissey, Bobbie Brown and Flo Denis, in "Laughology"; the beautiful Diel Sisters and McDonald in "Artistic Comedy"; Davis and Pello in "An Equilibristic Marathon," and two other Orpheum acts.
